This was a co-hosted meet between Atherton and Malanda clubs as part of the short course season, held in Malanda's 25m heated open air pool. This also coincided with a cold snap in the weather making it rather chilly - with some added showers to begin with.

These conditions contributed to a few last-minute cancellations from most clubs, so expected attendance was down somewhat. Stingrays still presented a healthy contingent - mostly of its younger members and newcomers to the club: a good opportunity to kick off the new season in a relaxed, low-key venue.
