Dimbulah is one of the more remote venues to travel to, but is a great family-friendly carnival to attend, with a camping option allowing families to make a weekend of it. Due to fewer members attending Dimbulah Club Stingrays offered to assist with the running of the meet, by officiating.

Stingrays was the club with the largest contingent - 25, while it was great to see Cooktown Club with a very healthy 20-strong contingent present, who do not normally attend any other meet due to travel constraints.

We had a good outcome as far as results are concerned, for which a healthy placements table at right attests, with some new names jumping up in rankings. Pb's were not prolific at this meet but those members featured on this page performed well, such as the two Greenwood sisters, and Madeline Stewart.
